Research scholarships

Federation works closely with industry and government to provide Higher Degree by Research (HDR) courses that make a difference to you and our local communities.

Each year, we offer a diverse range of HDR scholarship options, to current and future research candidates, that can cover the cost of anything from tuition fees to laptops and financial support for your project.

Visit our Graduate Research School website for the latest scholarship information: federation.edu.au/hdr-scholarships

Assess your eligibility

If you are undertaking an HDR course, an application or Expression of Interest may be required, separate to your application to study at Federation in 2025. Visit our Graduate Research School website for terms and conditions and how to apply: federation.edu.au/hdr-scholarships

Having received an Accommodation Support Scholarship, Sheryll chose to live on Campus at Mt Helen and remained there for the first year of her studies.

"I didn't really know where to stay when I arrived, so decided to live in the university accommodation. It was a great option as I was able to adjust smoothly to my new environment and join different activities and events arranged by the University. I did laser tag with the Ballarat Association of Rental Students (BARS) Club, which was really fun.

What I love most about FedLiving is that I was granted an accommodation support scholarship, which made my rental fees even more affordable."
